Chiropractic without the Crunch

I've been a Sonoma County resident since age six, and I've known almost as long what I wanted to be when I grow up. My aunt was my inspiration and mentor, and I was always fascinated with her profession as a chiropractor. But more than that, as I grew older, I learned to appreciate the truly miraculous things that are possible with chiropractic. There was no doubt – that's what I wanted to do with my life!

After graduating from Santa Rosa Junior College with an associate of science degree, I attended the Los Angeles campus of Cleveland Chiropractic College, and earned my doctor of chiropractic in 1988. I came back to Sonoma County to start my practice, and I have never regretted my choice of profession. I love what I do! To me there is nothing more gratifying than helping a patient get off pain killing drugs or heal other physical issues that have eluded their physicians.

It's so obvious: The spine is the body's nerve center, and when something along the spine is out of alignment, it causes a host of physical problems – not only to the skeletal system, but to organ function as well. I have had great success dealing with fibromyalgia, overactive bladder, dizziness, sleep disturbances and many other conditions.

If you are serious about your health and about finding a natural solution to your health challenges, it may surprise you what chiropractic can accomplish. Give me a call to schedule a no obligation complimentary consultation! During your visit you'll have an opportunity to read the many enthusiastic testimonials that are posted on the walls.

If thoughts of chiropractic have brought up unpleasant images of twisting, cracking and crunching for you, rest easy! I do not use those methods. For the last 18 years I've been using manual activators that gently put vertebrae back where they belong. In the meantime, electric models have come along, and I use both, depending on my patients' preferences. The rapid pace of clicks allows no time for muscles to resist. This eliminates the need for hot packs prior to treatment.
